TEEN CHASE ENDS AT GUNPOINT

A Penny for your Thoughts

"How much do you think a family of four should spend a week on food?"

That was the question the HERALD's inquiring photographer asked several persons in Torrance this week. Their pictures and answers appear below:

Mrs. Rosalie Black, 880 W. 4th St., San Pedro, typist-clerk:

"I have a family of three and we spend $20 to $25 a week. I work. However, if a woman stays at home and can cook economy dishes, she could get by on less than a working wife."

Joy Callaway, 2226 247th St., Lomita, secretary:

"I am engaged to be married shortly, and am planning to budget $20 to $25 a week for the two of us. It would seem to me that four people would need at least $30 a week for food."

Betty Howell, 5264 Stevely Ave., Lakewood, housewife:

"About $25. There are six persons in our family and we average about $35 a week for food."

Lou Ella Rios, 1730 Greenwood Ave., housewife:

"you shop the sales you can get more for your food dollar. The very minimum would have to be $20 a week. There are four at home in our family and ours varies upwards $20."

Mrs. Quinton McGee, 1427 W. 225th St., housewife:

"There are five in our family. I spend $40 a week for about $30 worth of groceries. If prices were right, we should be able to get by on $30. Our food budget goes mostly for the basic foods—not too many extras."

Hull Due At Riviera

An analysis of Torrance high schools with particular emphasis on the recommendations contained in the Conant Report will be given by Dr. J. H. Hull, superintendent of schools, when he speaks before the members of the Hollywood Riviera Homeowners Monday evening, May 4.

The 8 p.m. meeting will be held in the Riviera school auditorium, 365 Paseo de Elena, according to President J. Hanson.

Mate Jailed In Shooting

A 46-year-old plant inspector was still described as critical at Harbor General Hospital yesterday following a shooting in his home here late yesterday.

Duane Schultz, of 2654 W. Carson St., has been listed as critical since his 42-year-old wife, Martha E. Schultz, allegedly shot him during a heated argument. Mrs. Schultz was arraigned Friday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder and was remanded to county jail.

Det. Sgt. Donald Hamilton said the argument apparently started Wednesday evening because Mrs. Schultz had not prepared dinner. The couple had been drinking wine.

DURING the heated argument, Mrs. Schultz brought a .22 caliber automatic pistol from a dresser drawer and heard her husband dare her to shoot him. She apparently accepted the dare, and one bullet went crashing into Schultz's lower abdomen.

Schultz has been employed at the National Supply Co. for many years.

JA Firm Tops Area

Douglas Aircraft's Steel-Wood Industries Co., a Junior Achievement company, has been designated the top JA firm in the area serving the Torrance-South Bay-Centinel Valley District.

President of Steel-Wood Industries Co. is 16-year-old Michael Mullins, a North High School sophomore. Judging was based on quality of product, management and understanding, production technique, sales and advertising.

The Steel-Wood firm won the honors over 25 other student firms operating out of the Prairie Ave. Center.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT... This is one for Ripley—this is Hawaii. Navy Commander H. C. Millren (left) is shown with Commander J. A. Slover and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hill of Torrance during the visit of the Torrance couple to Hawaii earlier this month. Commander Millren is public information officer for the Naval Supply Center at Pearl Harbor and Commander Slover, a Torrance High graduate and the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Slover of 1712 Martina Ave., is with the Commander Service Force, U. S. Pacific Fleet. Oh, yes! They are all in a cold storage warehouse where the thermometer reads a cool —15°. (Official U. S. Drawn Guns End Chase

A high-speed chase through Torrance, Redondo Beach, and Hermosa wound up yesterday morning at Deelane Ave. and Anza with two Torrance detectives, Wally Nitz and Jim Davis, standing in the road with drawn pistols.

Calling an end to the chase which had covered more than 10 miles at speeds up to 100 miles an hour was a 15-year-old Lawndale boy who had reportedly stolen the 1959 convertible at Hawthorne and 166th St. earlier yesterday.

THE CHASE started in Redondo Beach when an officer thought the driver looked suspicious. He stopped the car, started to check it out when the lad roared away.

The Redondo officer jumped into his car and the chase was on. Through Redondo Beach, into Hermosa Beach, and back into the Southwest Park area of Torrance went the chase, gathering reinforcement along the way.

A total of 18 police units from the three cities were involved in the chase at one time—four of them from Torrance. At one point, officers report, the fleeing juvenile missed a young cyclist "by inches."

HE WAS finally brought to halt by the two Torrance officers.

cers who had anticipated his actions and were on the roadway with drawn guns when he came screaming down at them. The boy saw the guns pointed at his head and brought the auto to a halt. He was jailed here on suspicion of auto theft and countless traffic violations, then turned over to the Los Angeles County Sheriff's department.

Rock Wool Firm Sold

Purchase of the Torrance plant of the American Rock Wool Corp. plant by the United States Gypsum Co. was announced in Chicago this week. Operations of the plants are expected to be transferred about July 1.

James R. Addington, president of the American Rock Wool Corp., who operates plants in six locations in addition to the Torrance plant, made the announcement with C. H. Shaver, chairman of the board of the U. S. Gypsum Co.

The plants and properties of American Rock Wool were acquired with common stock of the United States Gypsum Co. American Rock Wool manufactures mineral wool and mineral wool products, glass fiber, and glass fiber products. None of these materials were manufactured for sale by the United States Gypsum Co.

"There is not much to talk about at parties until one or two couples depart."

Students Awarded Club Scholarships

Checks for $150 were presented to two Torrance high school students Friday by officers of the National Supply Management Club at a luncheon climaxing the annual scholarship essay contest conducted by the organization.

Rosalie Murray, North High and Michael Mullen, Torrance High, were judged winners for the local scholarship and a chance to compete for the National Management Assn. area contest May 22 on the basis of essays submitted to the local club.

Mullen wrote on the topic "Should Capital Punishment Be Abolished?" while Miss Murray selected the topic "What Does America Have to Give to the Underdeveloped Countries of the World?" Making the presentation to the two students were Harold Briggs, president of the sponsoring club, and Lyle Freckleton, scholarship chairman.

Both students have been active in school organizations, and plan to go on with their studies following graduation. Mullen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mullen, 1519 Post Ave., and want to attend Amherst or Carleton in Minnesota. He is undecided whether to study science or music. He is an accomplished pianist.

Two Mormon Officials to Speak Here

Two high-ranking officials of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) will address the quarterly conference of the Redondo Stake to be held Saturday and Sunday, May 2 and 3, in Torrance.

The visitors are Elder Mark E. Petersen, member of the Council of the Twelve Apostles, and Elder William J. Critchlow Jr., assistant to the Council of Twelve.

General sessions will be open to the public at 9:30 a.m. and 2:00 p.m. in the chapel at 2000 W. 174th St., announced Stake President Leslie L. Prestwich, 2707 W. 182nd St., Torrance.

Elder Petersen is a career newspaperman. He was news editor, managing editor, then editor and general manager of the Deseret News, pioneer daily newspaper in Salt Lake City, prior to becoming president of the church-owned company.

Elder Critchlow is a noted utilities executive and civic leader from Ogden, Utah. Prior to his present church appointment in October, 1958, he served as president of the South Ogden Stake.

INSPECT STATION... Assemblyman Vincent Thomas and his family, Vincent Jr. and Mary Virginia, and his wife, Mary, chat with Chief J. J. Benner during a visit to the Torrance fire station here Friday evening. Thomas came down from Sacramento Friday to talk to fire and city officials of his district on legislation which would consolidate county fire departments. Torrance is officially opposed to the legislation. (Herald Photo)

LIBRARY OPENS... Torrance has a new library today—the El Retiro Library located in the Hollywood Riviera area was officially opened to the public in formal dedication ceremonies yesterday afternoon. It is the city's fourth library, others in addition to the main branch downtown being in Waverly and North Torrance. (Herald Photo)
